PROJECT UPDATE

Another Project Milestone Completed: We have a Contractor!

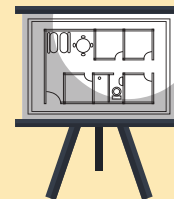

We are happy to announce that we have selected Scott Dennett Construction, L.C., to be our General Contractor and lead our local construction team. The General Contractor is a key contributor to our building project. During the next few months, Dennett Construction will be working with our Architect for cost-savings and overall constructability. Once construction begins, Dennett will manage the entire physical building of the structures to ensure our project is completed up to our standards of quality and design vision, on time, and within our budget. They will manage sub-contractors who are responsible for electricity, plumbing, finishing, and other tasks.

A big thank you to the Technical Advisory Committee and Diocesan Team for their diligent work evaluating all of the prospective contractors and finalizing their selection on schedule.

Please welcome Dennett Construction as the newest member of our building team, and pray for our joint success!

Meet Dennett Construction

Dennett Construction is based in Fort Worth, Texas, and has already done some work for our Diocese, including renovation work on St. Patrick's Cathedral. Owner Scott Dennett has more than 30 years of construction experience and, together with his team, will be valued partners.

NEXT MILESTONE: DESIGN COMPLETE

Design development is a team effort with the Architect, General Contractor, Parish and Diocesan Teams all working together to evaluate and weigh options while making sure to stay on budget.

The first output of this effort will be the site design, which includes plans for all of the grounds, foundations, electricity, water, sewage, and many other functional necessities.

We submit the site design to the city for their approval while design development continues, so please continue to pray for success in our efforts.
